EX PARTE QUAYLE ACTION

1. Drawing corrections are required as follows:
 - Label Figs. 1- 5C as "prior art".
 - Label the function of each box in Figs. 1, 6A and 6B. For example, in Fig. 1, label box 18 as "inverter"; box 14 as "PI controller"; box 16 as "PWM comparator"; etc. If the box is too small, the legend can be placed outside the box.
2. The abstract of this disclosure is objected to because it contains too many words. The following is a guideline for writing an abstract.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

A new abstract is now required.

3. All claims are allowable.

Art Unit: 2837

The claims are allowable because no prior art teaches the combination of calculating steps (d) and (e) in claim 1 or the first calculating means and the second calculating means in claim 10. Also see Fig. 6B of this instant disclosure wherein no prior art teaches a first calculating means 613 and a second calculating means 614 for performing the calculation according to the limitation set forth in claims 1 and 10.

4. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:

See paragraphs 1 and 2 above.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Bentsu Ro at telephone number (571) 272-2072.
